NEW QUORUM OF SEVENTY. Death of Hans Petersen-Two Cases

of "Smallpox"-Births. Special Correspondence. Huntsville, Weber Co., Nov. 22 .- The last two days it has been raining in-cessantly, which has had the effect of removing the four inches of snow that fell the beginning of the week.

DEATH OF HANS PETERSEN.

Tuesday Elder Hans Petersen, one of the pioneers of this place, was laid to rest. He would have been 94 years old in March next. He leaves three sons, Lars Peterson of Huntsville and Bish-op P. Petersen and Counselor Hans Petersen of Kanesville, all of whom have large families.

we are unfortunate in having two cases of "smallpox," Chris. Layton and his little daughter. The family has recently settled in Huntsville, and as several others are exposed, the citizens met and decided to close all public houses for public gatherings for two weeks, until it can be determined if any new cases develop.

Clarence Ferrin, son of Geo. E. Ferrin, is recovering from a very severe siege of typhoid fever, which has confined him to his bed for nearly a month.

Nephi Petersen is down with and fever, and quite a number of other people are suffering from la grippe and severe colds. A number of very aged people are constantly wishing that their hours might be numbered, as their health is extremely poor, among them Sister Anna Lund, aged 94; Sister Backman, aged 78; Sister Jensen, aged 92, and Sister Niels Anderson, aged 85. Some of these veterans have been in bed for years.

NEW QUORUM OF SEVENTY.

Elders J. Golden Kimball and Joseph W. McMurrin paid our city a visit recently, in the interest of the Seventy's quorum. The Seventies of Liverty, Eden and Huntsville constituted the seventyfifth quorum, but as there were too many Seventies for one quorum, an-other one was organized, known as the 131st quorum of Seventy, with the fol-lowing named brethren at the head; C. E. Clark, J. P. Andersen, Daniel Walker, Wilmer Ferrin and Phillip Ferrin, all of Eden and Liberty. The remain-ing two presidents to be selected later. The presidency of the 75th quorum was sustained as follows, Angus McKay, E. P. Bingham, Geo. H. Hall, A. J. Anderson, L. K. Peterson, J. N. C. Winter and A. W. McKay, of Huntsville.

During the summer the following named citizens have helped to beautify and improve the town by erecting new houses. John H. Wilson, L. M. Nelson, P. C. Anderson, P. A. Anderson, P. M. Jensen, Emma Peterson, Hoken Olsen and Hans Nelsen, while Jason Wilson, Wm. Slater and John Larsen have buildings in course of erection.

RICHFIELD. BEET CROWERS IN SESSION

Will Try Another Season in Sevier, to Tes the Sugar Beet Industry.

Messrs. Cutler and Austin State Plain Business Facts - Price of Beets for 1901.

Special Correspondence.

Richfield, Sevier Co., Nov. 23 .- The beet growers of Sevier county assembled in convention Wednescay evening, and all day Thursday. Manager Cutler of the Utah Sugar company was the principal speaker at the first session. He said that the experimental tests made upon the beets raised in Sanpete and climatic conditions of tnese counties is such as to insure the erection of a factory here provided the farmers will produce a sufficient quan-tity of beets to make the same a paying proposition. He assured us that the factory would be forthcoming as soon as the people make ready for it by producing the beets. It would be necessary for the two countles to raise 30,-000 tons per annum to make the factory a success. Sanpete and Sevier counties are asked to furnish 4,000 acres of beets for the Lehi factory next year of beets for the Lehi factory next year at a price 50 cents per ton in advance of what was paid this year. This sea-son $4.50 per ton was paid at the fac-tory, and it cost $1 per ton to ship the beets there. Next year $4.75 will be paid per ton at the factory and the sugar company will, in addition to this, pay 25 cents per ton on the freight, thus giving the farmers an advantage of 50 giving the farmers an advantage of 50 cents per ton over last year. The beet growers feel encouraged and will take up the work with a vim next season.

A SAD MISFORTUNE. Yesterday one William T. Pitts was brought here from Joseph City to be given a hearing on a charge of insan-ity. Pitts is a strong, robust young man, 21 years of age, but is in a most de-plorable condition mentally. He has been out herding sheep for the past three years, and a day or two ago wandered into Joseph afoot and alone with his mind fearfully deranged. He seems to imagine that he is in the mountains with his companion, and that his comanion is lost. He constantly yells to him, and calls him by name. Then he imagines he is driving a team and almost incessantly is calling to the horses to stop. The father of the unfortunate lived at Marysvale at last account of him. Judge McCarty or-dered Pitts committed to the insane asylum and Sheriff Coons will take him there today.

Saul Krotki, a prominent merchant Saul Krotki, a prominent merchant of this place, received word Wednesday evening that his brother, Max, who is running a branch store at Marysvale, was lost. Max started out for the mountains to visit some mining properties on Monday just prior to the erties on Monday just prior to the heavy storms that followed. As he did not return for several days when he intended coming back the first night the clerk in charge of the store became alarmed and sent the message referred Saul and Isaac Colby took the evening train for Marysvale and arrived there a few moments only in advance of Max, who had been laying over at the mines waiting for the storm to abate that he might return in safety, and so "the dead's alive, the lost is found." JURY COMMISSIONERS.

DISTRICT COURT NOTES. County Building Completed-Election

Contest-Many Victims of Measles. Special Correspondence,

Vernal, Uintah Co., Nov. 20 .- We are experiencing one of the wettest times here that we have had in a year. It here that we have had in a year. It has rained or snowed almost incessantly since the night of the 16th, and the streets are swimming in mud. The ground is getting a much needed soaking and will be in fine condition for ing and will be in fine condition for next season's planting.

Judge Booth and party, consisting of S. R. Thuman, S. A. King, L. R. Rhodes and Monte Roberts, arrived in Vernal Saturday night and court opened Monday morning in the new court house. The new quarters are cosy and commodious and the court party as well as the people of our county generally appreciate the change. Uintah county can now boast one of the finest court houses in the State.

The new school house is promised us by Christmas by the contractors, by Christmas by the contractors, Grace Bros., of Nephi. It is also a fine building, built from the same plans as the Maeser school of Provo, which is conceded to be one of the best in Utah. The building when completed, including the heating plant, will cost $14,000.

The $10,000 building of the Ashley Co-op is also nearing completion and adds very much to the appearance of the business portion of town.

Court proceedings commenced in earnest this morning. The great interdefendant is quite a prominent man in the county, the father of a large family and formerly stood well in the community. The alleged victim of his wiles, is a half demented girl named Lizzle Bromley, who at the time of the offense, was employed as a domestic in Anderson's family, and is now the mother of a six-months-old babe. The defendant himself shows in this feathe whole case with eager interest. A name was drawn from the box. Following are the names of the jurors; C. H. Glines, John Abplanalp, John Pope, John A. Workman Jr., Arthur Watkins, R. Jensen, John Steinaker and L. McNaughton.

The proceeding presented their main and L. McNaughton.

The prosecution presented their main evidence this afternoon when the defendant's attorneys, S. R. Thurman and W. H. Fry, entered a motion to instruct the jury to return a verdict of not guilty. The motion was taken under advisement until tomorrow, but will undoubtedly be overruled.

Considerable interest also centers around the election contest case. The commissioners could not agree in their count for some time, but finally decided in favor of the Republican candidate, W. H. Severe Storms in the North - More Moisture Than for Years.

Special Correspondence. Hyrum, Cache Co., Nov. 22 .- Driven back to Eden is about the only way your correspondent can express his feelings, on arriving home and coming out of the storm that has prevailed in the north country. The keen, cutting wind of Rexburg and all through the great Snake River valley was about all one

The wind, rain and snow of the past week has been the heaviest in November for many years past. The wind of Tuesday night blew down a shed be-longing to Mr. O. H. Rose, manager of the Hyrum Co-op, and killed a valuable cow, besides blowing down a few loose chimneys, stove pipes. This is all the damage done around here. The abunde of rain and snow that has faller here in October and November will prove a very great blessing. It means an abundance of water for irrigating and other purposes, for 1901. Crops of all kinds will be a certainty, and our grangers know that an abundance of snow in the mountains before Christmas, with wind enough to pile it up in the ravines and timbers, is worth any amount of snow after. The earth was as dry as powder, and wells that had not been dry in the memory of man, gave out last fall. Persons digging cellars for vegetables and other purposes found that there was no moisture in the ground. Little snow has fallen in the ground. Little snow has fallen in the mountains for three or four years past, and our rivers were never so low as the past summer.

Elders B. H. Roberts and Rulon S.
Wells, or J. G. Kimball, will hold a district meeting of the Seventies at Hyrum next Sunday for southern Cache.

John S. Lindsey and company are holding down the boards of our opera house Thursday and Friday evenings.

The circumstances of the drowning are narrated by Dan Burk, who was with him at the time. The latter has been engaged in cutting wood on Pick-ett creek, Whalen being in his employ. They started for Boise, intending to cross the Snake at the Grand View ferry. They could not get that ferry and started for Hall's ferry, 12 miles above. They had eight pack mules and two saddle animals. Whalen was riding the bell mare in the lead and Burl was bringing up the rear. They forder the Bureau and went on toward Snake. It was late at night, it b about 2 a. m. when they approached the ferry. It seems as though Whalen did not realize he had reached the river, for he went over the bank into the stream. There was one mule tied to the bell mare. Just what occurred is not known, but it seems as though the mule fell on top of the horse and rider in front, as a piece of the lining of the drowned man's coat was found caught in one of the mule's shoes. Burk was about 100 yards behind. He at once realized that something was wrong and, riding up hurriedly, called to Whalen but received no answer. The mare reached shore dragging the mule behind her, but the rider had disappeared. The mule was drowned. A search was made the next day by men whom Burk employed for the purpose but the body of the drowned man could not be found.

Deceased was about 45 years of age and was without family. He was quite well known in Bolse and at Pearl, hav-ing a mining claim in the Pearl district.-Statesman.
